Angel City Chorale
Celebrates Connectivity with
Interactive
An Imaginative Multidimensional Event
In Los Angeles for Two Special Evenings
Saturday, June 3 & Sunday, June 4, 2017

LOS ANGELES, CA – Angel City Chorale (ACC), the esteemed Los Angeles choir led by Founder-Artistic Director Sue Fink, will present Interactive, an imaginative and multidimensional concert event during the first weekend in June. An engaging, one-of-a-kind event that rebels against the traditions of choral performance, Interactive will fuse choir and cyberspace to break down the barriers between performer and audience and honor the notion of connectivity in our modern world. The inclusive, participatory concerts will take place at Wilshire United Methodist Church in Los Angeles over two very special nights on Saturday, June 3, and Sunday, June 4, 2017. Tickets range in price from $22 for children to $75 for VIP packages (see “Ticketing & Venue Details” towards the bottom of this press release). The performances will start at 7:00pm. For additional information on ACC and Interactive, please visit <http://www.angelcitychorale.org>.

“Angel City has always been known for our fresh, spontaneous approach to choral performance and our devotion to diversity of membership and material, but this time we are out to break the choral mold entirely,” says ACC Founder-Director Fink. “The music is breathtakingly varied from Bach to R&B Gospel but that’s just the beginning of the adventure. Traditional pieces will be reinvented with multi-dimensional tools. We will use apps, screens, visual artists, and audience participation to break down the fourth wall and take our audience where no choir has ever gone before. We will have virtual guest performers from South Africa and visual artists interpreting our performance live and more. I don’t want to give away all the surprises but for once we are going to ask the audience to NOT turn their cell phones off.”

Interactive –

Interactive is a brand new, one-of-a-kind production that will fuse choir and cyberspace to break down the barriers between performer and audience. Featuring a nontraditional mass with a diverse range of musical selections rooted in Jazz, South American cultures, Classical, Urban/R&B scenes, and more, ACC’s 160+ member choir and 22-piece orchestra will guide audiences on a participatory trip that honors the multifaceted idea of connection in our complex, modern world.

The concert will blend pieces from traditional masters like Bach and Mozart with contemporary favorites including Cyndi Lauper and The Beatles to create a radical, cross-generational experience that will resonate with attendees of any age or background. ACC’s innovative mixture of musical styles and forms – a reflection of the diversity of the choir itself – will reach new heights with Interactive, embracing virtual reality, mobile apps, and live streams to concoct a truly unconventional and captivating event.

Interactive will also feature the world premiere of “A Vibration,” an original composition by Los Angeles-based composer and ACC choir member Andrew Cheeseman. This stunning song, which incorporates gravity waves and other astrophysics data converted into sound, will reimagine the power of choral performance as a vehicle for technological exploration and universal connection.

“A Vibration” and a few other selections from Interactive will test drive a brand new mobile app called YourchestraApp, which will have its world premiere at this concert as well. The app will allow phones to be 'played' live from the stage. It will use the phone's speakers for sounds, and the screen for images.

The show will finish with a dazzling rendition of “All You Need Is Love,” which melds past and present as a beautiful ode to the 50th anniversary of The Beatles performing their song for the World’s FIRST simulcast in 1967, heard and seen around the world from Abbey Road.

For ACC, the Abbey Road connection is quite significant, having recorded at the famed studio one year ago this July. Award-winning composer Christopher Tin had invited Angel City Chorale to record his brand new composition, “Sogno Di Volare,” the title theme song for the popular video game Civilization VI, while the choir was on tour in England with Tin (see the “making of” video). “Sogno Di Volare” (a Leonardo Da Vinci-inspired piece capturing “the essence of flight”) will be included in Interactive’s repertoire this June.
